To whom it may concern,

This is to certify that Mr. Nguyen, Truong Manh, a postgraduate student in Department of Computer Science, University of Pisa, Italy, has successfully completed his research internship in the Department of Computer Science and Information Engineering, National Chung Cheng University, Chiayi, Taiwan, under Professor Pao-Ann Hsiung, during the period of 3 months from 1st July 2025 to 28th September 2025.

During the internship Truong worked on a project related to detection of waste littering from vehicles. This project was in collaboration with a technical company and the local government. Truong has proposed a very good solution via the use of the RF-DETR deep neural network model. His contribution has helped the project significantly.

You are most welcome to contact me if you have any further questions.

Sincerely yours,

Pao-Ann Hsiung
